Update [June 05, 2005]: I've done some much needed fixes to Web102 theme over the last month and still have a few more things to correct.

Update: Web102 template had some problems with text hugging the right side of the table in the contact and poll sections. These have been fixed. Front end editor has been added.

Would you rather have the new version for Mambo or Joomla!? Go to my dev site for the latest version or view web102 template ( when available ). Registration is required to download files.
